Mostly agree	3
Agree	4

EVALUATION SCALE - IMPORTANCE

Evaluators could also express how important the evaluated items are for them on a scale:

The evaluated person could also express how important the evaluated items are for him/her on a scale:

Values on the significance scale are as follows: 1 - It is of key importance to me, 2 - It is very important to me, 3 - It is quite important to me, 4 - It is not very important to me, 5 - It is not important to me.

In case there are no data for importance, there is the sign:

These values are labeled later in this report as "importance".

EVALUATORS

EVALUATORS	EVALUATED
Colleague	4
Manager	1
Subordinate	5
Self-assessment	1

Throughout the output report, results for Self-assessment and an average result for other evaluators are compared. This average is then labeled as Feedback from others.

INSPIRATION FOR YOUR DEVELOPMENT

IN WHAT ITEMS DO OTHERS SEE YOU DIFFERENTLY THAN YOU SEE YOURSELF

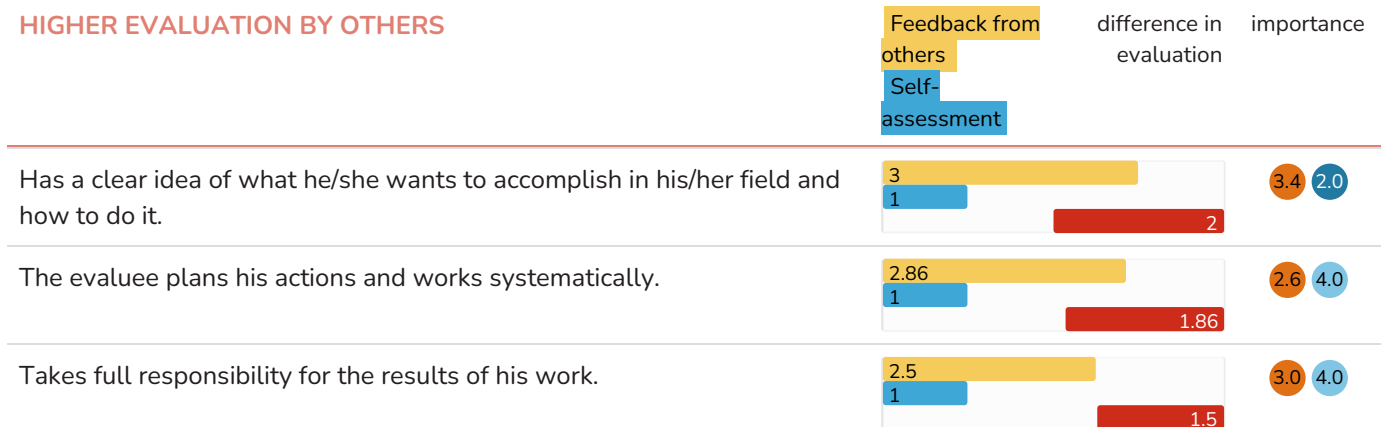

Below, you can find items across competences that show the greatest difference between your self-assessment and evaluations of others. The difference is shown in the charts in red.

Areas in which you evaluate yourself higher than how others perceive you can inspire you to think about why there is such a difference and what can you do in order to align the perception of you and others more.

HIGHER SELF-ASSESSMENT

HIGHER EVALUATION BY OTHERS

ASSESSMENT OF INDIVIDUAL COMPETENCES

This part of report is aimed at specific competences and gives you basic information about how you evaluate yourself in comparison with those around you.

It is easy to see in the chart, how much your own evaluation of yourself has in common with the views of others. In other words, if you evaluated yourself higher or lower in a certain competence, this difference will be shown here.

If the differences are large, try to think about what could have caused the discrepancies and what you could learn from this analysis.

- Self-assessment
- Feedback from others
- Average
- 10 % The Best

The values in the graph show the average for evaluators for a given competence.

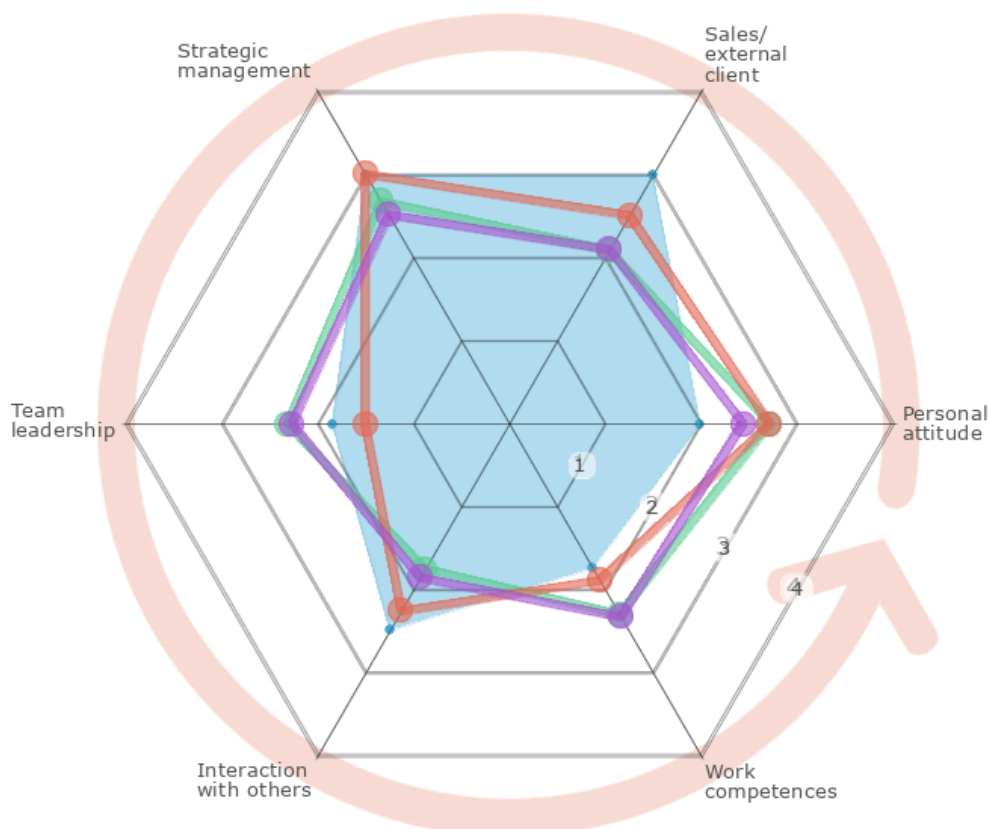

FEEDBACK FROM INDIVIDUAL GROUPS OF EVALUATORS

In the next part, you can look at the differences between the groups of people who evaluated you.

Try to think about why different groups of people perceive you differently and what it is caused by e.g. different experience they have with you, or whether you take a different approach with each of these groups.

It is quite common, but not always necessarily the case, that the evaluations with the largest discrepancies (largest gaps on the evaluation scale) are from superiors, who are not afraid to give more extreme answers on both ends of the evaluation scale and who are used to giving evaluations as a routine part of their role. Subordinates usually choose one of the highest values, because they know their superiors well and are able to appreciate their qualities (although, this is not always the case). For colleagues, it is quite typical that their answers are the nearest to the average value and they tend to choose rather cautious answers.

RECOMMENDATIONS FROM EVALUATORS

In this chapter of the report, you will find comments and recommendations from those who evaluated you.

Approach them as pointers that you could use for your further self-development. It is important that you keep the feedback in perspective, not to take any parts personally and remember that the comments are only the impressions of those who evaluated you. While it is the opinion of another individual that may be useful for you, it is also important to remember that it is not necessary to accept it automatically without reservation.

If the questionnaire had more categories of recommendations, they are then sorted from summaries and general ones to specific ones relating to partial competences or directly to questions. Your own comments are highlighted blue.
